Dear Ms. Martin:

Congratulations on obtaining your certification as a Women's Business Enterprise (WBE). Enclosed is your certificate evidencing your firm's status until 9/26/2019. This is a tremendous distinction that I am certain will provide you with greater opportunities to grow your business.

A healthy minority and women-owned business community is vital to the growth of our City. You help us generate jobs and grow our tax base and I want to make sure that you have a fair and equitable opportunity to successfully participate on City contracts.

Therefore, let me take a moment to make sure that you are aware of the numerous resources available in City government to help minority and women-owned businesses grow.

The Small Business Resource Center (443-451-7160) can help you with the technical assistance you may need such as writing and/or expanding your business plan and accessing capital. The Baltimore Development Corporation (410-837-9305) can assist you with obtaining a location for your business; and the Mayor's Office of Minority and Women-Owned Business Development (410-396-3818) is available to help you tie it all together. One of their goals is to reach out and be a resource to inform you of contracting opportunities and help you navigate through the numerous resources available for your business.

Best wishes on growing your business.

Sincerely,

Catherine E. Pugh
Mayor
